Choctaw Nation Casino, McAlester

Choctaw Nation Travel Plaza, McAlester

Casino, Travel Plaza ready for business

A newly renovated Choctaw Nation Travel Plaza and a new Casino officially opened their doors for business April 14 with ceremonial ribboncuttings. The new facilities, located east of Hwy. 69 in McAlester, are two more examples of the tribe’s impact on economic development in Southeastern Oklahoma.

The new 30,553-square-foot casino employs 250 associates. Majestic pillars, the gleam of gold and glass add an elegant touch. The new casino has 623 machines and five table games for patrons and seats 50 in its casual dining areas.

The opening of the McAlester Casino follows quickly on the heels of the Choctaw Nation’s new Route 69 Casino in Stringtown.

One of the tribe’s first ventures in economic development, the Choctaw Nation Travel Plaza in McAlester has left its well-used facade behind. The facility has undergone some major remodeling, including an increased store area and a covered drive-thru for customers. It provides 21 jobs for the area.

Truckers, travelers and hometown customers can sit in its cafe area and have a cup of some of the best coffee in town or order from the grill.

The travel plaza is one of the first tribal ventures to have all LED store lighting and all new doors have LED low-energy lighting to reduce electric bills, another step forward in Chief Pyle’s vision of a better tomorrow for tribal members.

Heavener JOM top in Choctaw Nation

Heavener school’s Johnson-O’Malley program has been chosen the exemplary JOM program in the Choctaw Nation for 2009. The annual Oklahoma State JOM Conference, held March 23-26 in Tulsa, followed the theme, “Reflecting the Dreams of Tomorrow.” Heavener’s program has proven that they strive for student success today so the youth can reach for their dreams.

Assistant Chief Gary Batton and Council Speaker Delton Cox presented Heavener JOM representatives with a gift of appreciation during the annual conference banquet March 25. Tribal Councilmembers were also on hand to congratulate them.

The conference provides a variety of workshops, guest speakers, exhibits and activities, encouraging parent and teacher involvement. There are 72 schools participating in JOM within the Choctaw Nation’s 10 1/2 county service area, with 9,700 students enrolled.

Assistant Chief Batton extended an invitation to everyone to attend the 2010 state conference to be hosted by the Choctaw Nation.

Council holds April session

The Choctaw Nation Tribal Council addressed 26 items on its April agenda including setting the election filing dates and election dates for 2009. Those wishing to run for Council in Districts 4, 6, 7, 9, 10 and 12 can file from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on May 11, 12 and 13. Election day is July 11. If a runoff is necessary, that date has been set for August 1.

New business began with eight applications – four to the Department of Justice for a Violence Against Women Grant, a Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) Hiring Recovery Grant, Bureau of Justice Assistance, and for the COPS

A Champion for Children

A friend, a champion, Joy Culbreath has reached out and touched the lives of children for decades. On April 3, Smart Start Durant hosted a banquet to champion the champion. Mrs. Culbreath was named the John Massey Champion of Children Recipient 2009. Massey was joined by Lt. Gov. Jari Askins, Chief Gregory E. Pyle, Assistant Chief Gary Batton, her husband, Alton Culbreath, and scores of family and friends who gathered to honor this special lady. After retiring from the public school system, Joy has served as Executive Director of Choctaw Nation Education programs for 12 years.

“It has been rewarding to see the tremendous growth in the education department, largely due to the vision of our Chief,” said Culbreath. “This department has grown from one Adult Education program originally serving eight people to a huge department of 14 programs and almost 400 employees. The Education Department has programs that work with very young children, programs that assist children in public schools, scholarships for college students, and educational opportunities for adults. Jones Academy is becoming recognized more and more as a prestigious school for American Indian children.

“The school of Choctaw Language has experienced a steady increase in enrollment and is playing a vital part in preserving the language and culture of the Choctaw people.”

Tribe hosts TBAG conference

“Preserving the Past for the Future” was the theme of the 2009 To Bridge a Gap Conference, hosted by the Choctaw Nation April 6-9 in Durant. The four-day conference served to forge stronger ties among tribal historic preservation officers and partnering entities. Workshops and breakout sessions concentrated on several government-to-government issues.

Highlights of the conference included a ground penetrating radar presentation by Dr. Ken Schneider. The Choctaw Nation recently purchased its own GPR to use in finding old burial grounds.

One of the Choctaw Nation’s newest employees, Dr. Ian Thompson, joined in explaining what archaeologists do for Indian country. Other panel members included Dr. Joe Watkins and Dr. Robert Brooks.

Paying attention to the environment

From the Desk of
Chief Gregory E. Pyle

The Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma is truly some of the most beautiful country in the world. It is a blessing to have seen many areas of our country as I visit with Choctaws in other states. I always admire the scenery of the coast, the mountains, and everything in between. Home here in Oklahoma has a special call for me, though, and as exciting as it is to see the ocean and the large cities, the familiar sights of Southeastern Oklahoma are hard to beat. The air and water here are still pristine, and we are fighting to keep the quality as high as possible.

Although we encourage development from businesses, schools, and individuals, the Choctaw Nation is also very concerned about the environment and we want to do our part in the effort to “go green.” As we become more educated on ways to conserve and preserve, we find that some of the things that are best for our environment have also been pretty good for the pocketbook. It is a simple matter to cut down on the use of electricity by unplugging chargers when not in use and turning off computers and appliances when leaving for the day.

As environmentally conscious habits at home and work have improved over the years, Choctaw Nation staff have become more proactive in efforts to change the mindset of the community. Clean-up days on the highway and park beautifications have become common events for many of the employees of the tribe and their families. This should help make the next generation a cleaner generation, since the theory is that anyone who has picked up trash on several miles of highway will never be a litterbug.

The tribe has grown so much in the past 10 years that our offices in Durant have had to expand to 13 buildings in addition to the main headquarters office. Because we want to make services available to Choctaws in a “one-stop-shopping” experience with efficiency and ease, a new, much larger headquarters is being designed. We are paying attention to the environment with this new building, too, aiming for a LEED certification. This will be the first Native American administrative complex that has this certification. Of all the things that the Choctaw Nation has accepted in a leadership role, being a leader in environmentally sustainable construction ranks among the top.

Laying the foundation of an historic building

From the Desk of
Assistant Chief
Gary Batton

The importance of learning our Choctaw Nation history has really been brought home to me as we work on designing a new tribal headquarters. There are many opportunities for symbolism in every aspect. I keep thinking of simple things such as placing 12 steps to represent 12 Council members, or trios of windows could represent the three branches of government. Even the designs in tile work, etchings, and marble could be tremendous works of art that depict our culture of stickball, diamond design, love of nature ... the list can continue as long as the architect’s imagination.

I appreciate the energy the staff and the design team are putting into the process. Books have been read cover-to-cover to find out everything that is written about the Choctaws from the first contact with DeSoto in 1540 until now. A lot of interest has been placed on the Trail of Tears and other benchmarks of history such as the forming of the Lighthorsemen, the Code Talkers, the Dawes Commission and the meaning of our Great Seal. Thanks to this interest, there are volumes written that we can learn from today.

Just recently, I saw a picture of the construction of the Capitol at Tushka Homma with four men standing next to the three-story building. Even with the scaffolding surrounding the structure and the change of landscape, it was recognizable as our Capitol that is still used today as a court and a museum.

What an awesome feeling to know that the small group of men in the old photo who were viewing the brick and mortar work on that historic building over 100 years ago had probably faced some of the same challenges that we are going through today in planning a headquarters building to serve Choctaw people all over the world. We want to be able to offer programs and services in this new building that will help tribal people access everything they need in the most comfortable and least complicated way possible.

Preparing for eternity

Again it is my privilege to share with you something from the Word of God. I am reminded much of our Choctaw-speaking preachers saying, “Achukmalit illa nukfilla shke.” (“Let’s meditate or think on these things.”)

The Bible indicates that this life we are living is only for a brief period – preparing us for eternity. There are many who are living only for today with little thought about the future life. The Bible has a great deal to say about the future, one is the subject of hell.

In the record of the rich man in Luke 16, we have an example of a man who chose to disregard God’s law and lived to regret it in a place that Jesus called hell. Jesus was trying to picture what would happen if you left God out of your plans. Because He will bring judgment in the life to come.

In Luke 16:22 we see that this man was rich, “...the rich man also died, and was buried.” God does not condemn men because they are rich, nor does He justify a man because he is poor. Poverty is not a virtue nor are riches in themselves sin.

The altar of God is where the rich and the poor meet. There are no rich nor poor in heaven and with one voice they say, “Nothing in my hands I bring, simply to thy cross I cling.” Some of the finest Christians are men of means, but their bank accounts, like their lives, are consecrated wholly to God. But the rich man of whom Jesus spoke, lived selfishly.

This rich man eventually found himself forsaken by the God he had ignored and by his friends whom he had neglected. Money with all its advantages cannot buy everything. This rich man died and all of wealth could not buy one more precious hour of life.

Think of the things that cannot be bought with money. It cannot buy health, friends, love, or peace of heart and mind. It cannot buy peace of soul. We come to the conclusion then, that money in itself is not worthy of the importance most people place upon it.

This man’s sin was his selfish use of money. He placed it ahead of God and because of that, his heart was conditioned for hell instead of heaven.

Notice in verse 23 of Luke 16 the place to which the rich man was condemned, “And in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.”

I find no pleasure in the knowledge of the fact of hell, but it is my duty to remind you that the same book, the Bible, that proclaims the wonders of heaven also describes the terrors of an eternal separation from God in hell.

The rich man carried all of his faculties with him when he went to hell. He saw, he felt, he heard, he remembered and he cried.

A million years from today, for eternity, you will still be living somewhere. The immaterial part of man, your memory, your hearing, your feeling,

Chaplain’s Corner

I imagine also that this man had an opportunity to turn to God, but refused or neglected it and now he had the memory of those neglected opportunities.

You remember the times that you drove by the church. You are going to remember the times that you saw the Bible and neglected to read it. You are going to remember the times the Spirit of God spoke to you in the quietness of your heart, but you didn’t turn to God. You are going to remember throughout eternity and that alone will be a torment that will drive you deeper into hell. This man squandered his opportunity.

Notice, the rich man had the torment of thirst. We read in Luke 16:24 “... he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.” Is there literal fire in hell? I answer, by reminding you again that these are the words of Jesus. Jesus said, “in this flame.”

This brings us to the last torment. The torment of separation in Luke 16:26, “And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot, neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.”

Sin separates God from man. It was man’s sin in the beginning which created a gulf of separation between God and man.

But Jesus Christ, the Son of God, in the supreme act of atonement fashioned a bridge over the impassable gulf of separation, and reconciled God and man. This bridge was in the form of a cross and every man who comes to God must come by the way of the cross. Will you trust Jesus Christ as your Savior today? You do this by faith.

Remember to pray for America. Pray for our leaders. May is Memorial month, pray for our Service men and women.

Small changes to encourage healthy habits

Here are some handy tips to help you get moving, encourage food and drink to grow on, and let your children help with grocery shopping.

1. Take the stairs instead of the elevator.
2. Strrrretch! After sitting for a long time, reach up high to the ceiling. Now reach down to the floor.
3. When you wake up in the morning, give each part of your body a little wiggle and get an energetic start to the day.
4. At bedtime, talk about all the ways you have moved during the day, and name some fun, active things you would like to do tomorrow.
5. An “anytime” food is something we can eat every day, such

WIC as fruits and veggies in all colors of the rainbow, whole grains, lean meats and low-fat milk to drink.

6. “Sometime” foods are high in sugar, fat or salt. That is why we should only eat them once in awhile. They are foods such as cookies, candy, chips and sodas.
7. Start off with the grocery aisles on the outermost part of the store, where you can choose food such as fresh produce and dairy.
8. Give your child a small list of items to look for and check off as they are found.

Another baby? Why it’s best to wait ...

By Ashley Norris, AFL Technician

There are lots of good reasons to wait at least two years before you get pregnant again.

- Spacing your babies well apart...
- Increases the chance that your next baby will be born healthy and thrive.
  - Gives your body time to replace the nutrients it used during pregnancy.
  - Gives you time to enjoy this baby and give her the attention she needs to grow.
  - Reduces your stress and exhaustion. Two babies at once can be overwhelming.
  - Reduces the chance that you will get so overwhelmed that you lose your cool with your children.
  - Gives you a chance to get your own life back together and focus on your personal needs and plans.
  - Helps you financially. Two babies in diapers can really be expensive.

Choctaw Nation AFL Project

The Choctaw Nation Adolescent Family Life (AFL) Project is an innovative program focused on pregnant teens, their child, male partner and extended family members. The AFL program provides opportunities for a brighter future through integrated services within the Choctaw Nation and other agencies.

Participants will expand their knowledge through prenatal education, relationship enhancement programs, and parenting workshops. Striving for healthy outcomes in adolescent family lives is our program goal. Services are provided through Choctaw Nation Outreach Services to pregnant Native American teens under 19 years of age or otherwise qualified through an eligible Native American.

The ceremony was held at the Department of the Army Headquarters 2D battalion, U.S. Army Armor Center in Fort Knox, Kentucky. One Station Unit Training (OSUT) molds young men into self-disciplined, well-motivated and physically conditioned soldiers who are trained in the skills required to survive in combat as an apprentice tank crewman. Each graduate has successfully met all of the challenges of this 15-week program and is prepared to join the ranks of a combat-ready tank or cavalry unit anywhere in the world. As the graduate departs for his new assignment, we are confident that they trained him well and he will make a significant contribution to the defense of our great nation. Christopher will be stationed in Fort Lewis, Washington, for three years with one year of those three years being in Afghanistan. Christopher follows a tradition of his Choctaw forefathers, Major John Pitchlynn and John's father, Peter Pitchlynn, who served as Chief from 1864 to 1866. Powell's family attended the graduation. Christopher's parents are James and Therese Powell and Shelia and Steve Rosignol; brothers, Dellon Rosignol, Taylor Sprabary, Ronald Rosignol and James Carter (Powell); sisters, Megan Powell and Trista Rosignol; grandparents, the late Joseph Powell and the late Neva Nell Powell, Don and Bonnie Young, Shirley Jones and the late Vernon Ray Sprabary, Ron and Dawn Rosignol and Patty and Carl Zimmeman.

Congratulations

Recently, seventh grade student Ashton Martin took the ACT test through Duke University Talent Search. Martin will be recognized by the state in a ceremony in April for her outstanding scores in the subjects of English, Math and Science.

Happy 11th birthday

Austin and Logan would like to wish their big brother, Caleb Sullivan a happy 11th birthday on May 12. Caleb enjoys Boy Scouts, soccer, playing video games and being with his family and friends. Caleb is in the fifth grade at Durant Intermediate School. He is the son of Matt and Lorelei Sullivan of Durant. He is the grandson of the Rev. Floyd and Nancy Peter of Antlers. For his birthday he wants a big party and to invite all his friends. Our baby is getting older and we are so proud of him. Happy birthday.

65th anniversary

Truman and Mary Jo Dickson Heron of Durant celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary. They were married in Grant on April 20, 1944. They moved back to Durant in 1963 after Truman retired from the USAF as a Major and pilot. In 2005, Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma recognized Truman as the Outstanding Choctaw Male Elder. The couple has two daughters, Linda Jo Thoms and husband, Richard, and Janet Ramey. Their grandchildren are Connie Vandergriff, Simon Vandergriff and Christopher Ramey.

Family celebrates special day

Melvin R. Jones and Chadwick Clay Crawford are celebrating birthdays again. This is always a special day between great-grandfather and great-grandson. They share each year together on this special day. Melvin 'Papa' turned 81 on March 4 and Chadwick 'Hot Pockets' turned 3 on March 7. Happy birthday to both of them from all of us.

Happy birthday

Happy birthday to you Seth Maytubbie and to everyone who has a birthday in April including Seth who turned 12 on April 15. Also a happy birthday to Jathon Hunt who turned 4 on January 7. We all are so proud of you for being good boys and working hard at school. Thank you so much for helping care for baby sister, Sue Elizabeth Talina Hunt.

Congratulations

The Michigan Great Laker scholar association has chosen Carly R. Prowdley, 9, for outstanding scholastic achievement. Carly attends Lincoln Elementary in Michigan. Carly's eagerness to learn and avid curiosity keep her a very busy little person. She has many interests and is well read. Reading is one of her favorite things to do.

During half-time game in Detroit, Michigan, the Great Laker Association will give recognition to Carly at the Tiger Stadium. Carly has an exciting day to look forward to in August 2009. Her parents are Jeff and Julie Prowdley; grandparents, Bettye Karbo, and Oklahoma's Aunt Micky Gish offers Carly a heart felt congratulations. Carly's great grandparents are Johnny McNoel and Agnes Tom McNoel, deceased.

Families celebrate birthdays

Happy birthday to Abby RayAnn Moseley who will turn 6 years old on June 6. Birthday wishes from Auntie Stina, Ashley and Kayla, and mom, April Williams and step-dad Jeremy Jim. We would also like to wish a happy first birthday to Zachary J. Jim.

Brothers celebrate

Happy birthday to Blake Alexander Lang who is turning 1 on April 10. Best wishes from Mom, Ashley Mitchell and Daddy, Brent Lang.

Also, best wishes and happy birthday to your big brother Aaron James Eldred who is turning 3 years old on June 15. Your aunts, Kayla, Stina and April; Mom, Ashley and grandma, Roberta Williams Mitchell wish you the happiest birthday.

Happy 36th birthday

Family and friends would like to wish a happy a 36th birthday to Allen Bryon Battiest from Watson on May 10.

Look who's 2

Look who turned 2 on February 7. Happy birthday to Morgan Hensley form Momma, Daddy, Erin, Grandma and Grandpa Hampton and Meme and Poppa Roy.

Congratulations Cody

Cody Evans will be 18 on May 19. He will graduate from Charles Page High School in Sand Springs. He will be attending NSU in the fall. His parents are Patricia and Wallace Kiefer Jr. His grandparents are Gary and Loretta Thompson Perigo of Tulsa and Karen and Wallace Keifer Sr. of Indiana.

Richardson serves as page at State Capitol

Joshua Kale Richardson, a senior at Pauls Valley High School, served as a page in February at the Oklahoma House of Representatives for State Representative Lisa J. Billy. Joshua spent the week at the State Capitol running errands, observing committee meetings and learning the legislative process. He and his fellow pages participated in a mock legislative session in which Joshua acted as a committee chairman. Joshua’s paternal great-great-grandparents Reuben and Nicey Gibson are original Choctaw enrollees. He is the son of Jim and Jeniece Richardson of Pauls Valley and Kathalene Price of Sulphur.

Team places at state conference

Leila Jefferson of Wright City and Marcella Torres of Idabel participated in a four-member administrative support team competition at the Business Professionals of America 2009 State Leadership Conference which was held at the OSU campus in Okmulgee and continuing conference at Oral Roberts University on March 9 and 10. The team placed within the top 10 to receive the medals. Leila is president and Marcella is reporter of Kiamichi Technology Center’s chapter of Business Professionals of America. Their appreciation is extended to the Choctaw Nation in providing funds for tuition and clothing allowance for their attendance at Kiamichi Technology Center at Idabel.

Cuddeback receives doctorate

Cary Moore Cuddeback has been awarded the degree of Doctor of Audiology from Salus University George S. Osborne College of Audiology. Dr. Cuddeback is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, where she earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Communication Sciences and Disorders and a Master of Science in Audiology degree. The daughter of Ida Moore and the late Dwight Moore, Dr. Cuddeback is the granddaughter of former Durant resident Alma Lake Sullivan Brand and the late Jimmie Sparks, and the great-granddaughter of former residents the late Bloomer and Maggie Lake Sullivan. Dr. Cuddeback, her husband and their two sons live in Edmond.

Puckette receives PhD

Michael Carroll Puckette, the son of Dr. Tom and Debby Puckette of Longview, Texas, has been awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) from Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, Oklahoma. Michael is the grandson of Dr. Calvin Beames of Kingston and Charlene Beames of Ardmore. Michael was a recipient of Choctaw Nation higher education scholarships while attending Oklahoma State University and would like to express his thanks to the tribe for this assistance. His degree was earned in the area of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology. His dissertation work was conducted in the research group of Dr. Ramamurthy Mahalingam where he studied plant responses to oxidative stress caused by ozone. His dissertation is entitled “Ozone induced stress response in Medicago truncatula.” Michael was hooded with his PhD hood in graduation exercises on December 12. The PhD hood was presented by his father and his grandfather, Dr. Calvin Beames, professor emeritus at Oklahoma State University. Michael is a 1999 graduate of Longview High School of Longview, Texas, and had previously earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Biochemistry from Oklahoma State. Michael is now working with the U.S. Department of Agriculture at the Plum Island Animal Disease Center, Long Island, New York.

Coley helps Long Prairie Community Center

On April 25, Councilman Joe Coley gathered with several other folks with a history in the Long Prairie Community. Long Prairie is located on State Hwy. 82 between Red Oak and Bengal in Southeastern Oklahoma. The Long Prairie School was originally built in 1914 and burned in 1969. It was and still is a beautiful rock building that sits in a gorgeous little valley. Councilman Coley helped with some funding needs and donated the Indian taco and peach cobbler meal at the Grand Opening Celebration. Councilman Coley grew up just one mile west of Long Prairie and remembers his siblings attending school at Long Prairie for a short time before they went to Red Oak School. He and his brothers supported the rebuilding of what is now the Long Prairie Community Center.

Storytelling Festival coming to Idabel

Two-day annual event features stories, arts and crafts, singing and dancing

Gather up family, friends, and all your stories - the 7th Annual Choctaw Storytelling Festival is coming to Idabel. The Choctaw Community Center in Idabel is hosting this year’s festival, June 19 and 20. Come and enjoy Choctaw traditional stories, ghost stories, history tales, plus arts and crafts, music, and cultural demonstrations. Bring your family and friends for a free breakfast on Friday and Saturday from 8-9 a.m and a free traditional Choctaw meal

Friday evening, 6-7 p.m. Saturday evening features Choctaw gospel singing, and don’t forget the Choctaw dancers. They will be there, too! Throughout the weekend, we’ll be sharing Choctaw stories for children, adults, and everyone, some serious, some funny ones, too. For more information visit the website www.choctawstoryfest.com or call Presley Byington at 580-212-7944.

Your child can be a STAR!

The Choctaw Nation STAR Program (Success Through Academic Recognition) is happy to announce that the eligibility for students has been extended to include children enrolled in any Accredited School within the state of Oklahoma.

What does this mean for your child?

This program will encourage the academic success of Choctaws by providing students an incentive to strive for the highest possible level of achievement. The STAR Program offers a certificate of excellence along with an incentive dispersed on a bi-annual basis.

The awards are granted according to the students’ educational progress:

- Straight A’s – $25
- A’s and B’s – $10
- Perfect Attendance- $25

To be eligible for this program a student must:

- Be a confirmed tribal member of the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma; verified by STAR staff, and
- Be in the second through 12th grade

If you are not certain your school is participating please give us a call and we will be more than happy to help your student on an individual basis.

For more information contact star@choctawnation.com or call 800-522-6170 or 580-924-8280, ext. 2639.

To the youth of the Nation We are what we do

By Preston Wells, Chair
Choctaw Nation Youth Advisory Board

The rebirth and rejuvenation of spring has arrived and colors are showing up everywhere. Flowers begin to bloom and the grass is in the “cut me every two weeks-stage.” Although spring is the season that gives birth back to nature, do I need something to bring me back to life?

Aristotle once said, “We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit.” I read this quote and thought about it for a good while so I could understand its full meaning. Then I realized that we cannot accomplish what we don’t do. So in order to succeed in all that I do, I must repeatedly do what I feel is right. Therefore it is my choice to decide what I do and what I become, not anyone else’s.

To strive for excellence may be hard but do I ever repeatedly try to become all that I can be? To become good at anything a person must put effort into it, but to become great; a person must put forth all effort. How often do people think about good habits? Not very much. If we spent our time thinking about the good things we do, we might do them more often. What we do repetitively is not an act, it is not fake, it is not someone else; it is a habit and part of who we are.

Keep faith in good habits and continue to do them. Think about the good things and the many blessings in your life. Excellence is achievable in anything if you put forth effort. Always remember that when preparation meets opportunity you can only succeed.

Employees, families celebrate Earth Day with park projects

Calera Councilmember Vicki Barkley and Calera Vice Mayor David Westbrook watch as Chief Greg Pyle and Councilman Ted Dosh plant a tree in Calera Park on Earth Day. Over 100 Choctaw Nation employees and members of their families worked on the project, planting approximately 40 trees and 40 shrubs. The efforts to clean up and beautify parks in Calera, Wilburton, Antlers and Atoka are all a part of the “Go Green” initiative, and offer a way to partner with the communities.

Congratulations to employees on a great day at Atoka planting trees and painting fence and benches at the park! The friends and families of Choctaw Nation employees joined in with staff and Councilman Dillard for about three hours of work to beautify the park, which has a great walking path. Hopefully, with the attractive new paint job and the new shade trees, even more families will be drawn to the outdoors to enjoy a healthier lifestyle. Councilman Dillard said he felt this was one way he could participate in a “servant leadership” initiative that could carry through the generations to come.

Councilman Joe Coley and Wilburton Mayor Stephen Brinlee, along with a crew of Choctaw Nation employees from the Wilburton and McAlester area, planted trees in a Wilburton park. Councilman Coley blessed the 25 trees before they were planted.

In photo at right, District 7 Councilman Jack Austin shovels a spot for a tree to be planted in the Little People’s Park in Antlers. There were 100 elementary kids helping out in the park. Youth Advisory Board members were on hand to paint faces and Smokey the Bear was also in attendance. Eight trees were planted and flowers were placed around some trees.

TBAG

year’s conference.

“We have come a long way since the first conference,” he said. “More and more programs are becoming involved which leads to positive working relationships.

“I would like to thank everyone involved in making the 2009 Conference a success, especially Chief Pyle, Assistant Chief Batton and the Tribal Council for their support.”

The TBAG Conference Planning Committee included Cole, Choctaw Nation employees Caren Johnson, Valarie Robison, Cyndi Houser, Olin Williams, Judy Parks and Patricia Lilley; Chickasaw Nation’s Eddie Postoak, Dixie Brewer and Kirk Perry; Joyce Bear of the Muscogee Creek Nation; and U.S. Forestry Service staff Meek Etchieson, David Journey, Bert Pelltier and Lexie LaRue-Harris.

USDA announces Grassland Reserve Program sign-up for 2009

Ann Colyer, Tribal Resource Conservationist, National Resources Conservation Service (NRCS), announces the availability of funding for enrollment in the Grassland Reserve Program (GRP). The 2008 Farm Bill continued authorization for this program. USDA is providing nearly $1.6 million to Oklahoma for GRP enrollments in permanent easements and in 10-, 15- and 20-year rental contracts.

“GRP is a voluntary program that helps protect valuable grasslands from conversion to other land uses, thus helping to ensure this national resource is available to future generations,” said Colyer. “Enrollment of land in GRP will have a positive economic impact on the country and improve environmental quality by preventing the conversion of grassland to other uses, including crop production and urban development.”

The NRCS and Farm Service Agency (FSA) are coordinating the implementation of GRP, which helps landowners restore, protect and rehabilitate grassland, rangeland, pastureland, shrubland, and certain other lands. When properly managed, grasslands and shrublands can result in cleaner water, healthier riparian areas, and reduced sediment in streams and other water bodies. These lands are vital for the production of forage for domestic livestock and provide essential habitat elements for maintaining healthy wildlife populations. These lands also improve the aesthetic character of the landscape and provide scenic vistas, open space, recreational opportunities and soil erosion protection.

Priority enrollment and ranking criteria for 2009 has not been finalized at the current time, pending release of the final program rule. Colyer indicates the criteria will take into consideration: grazing operations, protection of eligible acres under the highest threat of conversion to uses other than grazing lands, expiring Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acres, plant and animal biodiversity, and offers from eligible entities (who wish to partner in the acquisition of GRP easements).

Individuals interested in offering land, but unsure if they meet the eligibility requirements may contact NRCS or FSA office. Applicants must select to enroll under the permanent easement option, or for a rental contract of 10-, 15- or 20-year duration. If restoration activities are needed, applicants may request cost-share assistance for specific practices as identified on a list of GRP practices set up for grassland restoration activities.

All applications, meeting eligibility requirements, that have been submitted by close of business on May 15, 2009, will be ranked and considered for the 2009 funding.

Producers interested in participation in GRP may apply at any time at the local NRCS or FSA office. Additional information is available at www.ok.nrcs.usda.gov/programs/grp.

OKC

A community gathering was held April 4 in Oklahoma City with over 800 tribal members attending. The group enjoyed visiting with Chief Pyle, Assistant Chief Batton and representatives of tribal programs that are available to those who live in the OKC area.

Brothers from the Hays family, Guy, Marvin and Terry, pose with Chief Pyle at Oklahoma City.

Current Choctaw Tribal Alliance board member Billy Bryant and former board member Charles Chastain are seated together.

Partnerships for better communities

Councilman James Frazier gets a good health check at the Coalgate Community Center's Outreach Information Fair.

Bernice Long, Ola Draper, and Margie Johnson are all smiles at the community outreach meeting in Wilburton.

Jennier Davidson and Debbie Davenport of Choctaw Nation Vocation Rehabilitation share information with Atoka community members.

Choctaw Nation Outreach Services has hosted several successful community meetings. Their goal is to provide the Choctaw people with resources and information about the services that are available throughout the Choctaw Nation Outreach Department. Choctaw Nation Outreach Services is dedicated to reaching out to the Choctaw people and making all services available. Outreach meetings will continue to be offered at various locations within our 10 ½ counties. If you are interested in having a community meeting in your area please contact Randy Hammons, Executive Director of Outreach Services at 877-285-6893.

Choctaw Nation Healthy Lifestyles partnered with District Attorney Laura Wallis, Drug Task Force, McCurtain County Sheriff's Department, Valliant House Residential Rehab, Choctaw Nation's Lifetime Legacy, Youth Outreach, Project Safe, Youth Advisory Board, Youth Outreach, and the Area Prevention Resource Center, to March Against Meth at the Eagletown and Battiest Schools. The junior high and high school students from each school were given a one-hour March Against Meth presentation by the programs. The Valliant House participants gave the students firsthand knowledge from personal stories of how meth affected their life. In addition the students were asked as they marched the halls of their schools, to remember Oklahoma Trooper David W. "Rocky" Eales who lost his life in the fight against meth.

Choctaw Nation Bethel Community Center partnered with the Bethel/Battiest chapter of the Choctaw Nation Youth Advisory Board, Choctaw Nation's Victims Assistance Program, Youth Outreach, Choctaw Nation Elder Advocate Program, Councilman Mike Amos, and volunteers from the community, Lois Bohanon and Eunice Bohanon, to bring awareness to the Bethel Community that April is Child Abuse Prevention Month. The seniors and the children from the community tied blue ribbons on a tree in front of the community center. The community was also audience to a presentation provided by the Youth Advisory Board, Youth Outreach, Victims Assistance and Elder Advocate. Refreshments and hot dogs were served by the YAB and community volunteers.

OBITUARIES

Harlon Lavern Hyde

Harlon Laverne Hyde, 78, of Caddo, passed away March 6, 2009, at the Medical Center of Southeastern Oklahoma. He was born June 6, 1930, in Caddo to Emma Jackson and Thomas Hyde. He married Betty Jo Haddock on December 9, 1950, in Big Lake, Texas.

Harlon was a devoted husband, father, and grandpa. He was known as an old-fashioned cowboy who loved the outdoors and livestock. He was a lifetime member of the Caddo Round-up Club and was presented the Pioneer Award in 2003. He was a member of the Bryan County (CHA) Coon Hunter's Association and a proud member of the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma. Harlon has been a member of the First Baptist Church of Caddo since April 22, 1965.

He will be remembered as a great friend to many as he enjoyed visiting friends at the local coffee shop and friends at home.

Harlon was preceded in death by his parents, Emma Jackson and Thomas Lee Hyde; sister, Barbara Haddock; brothers, Neal and Don Hyde; and nephews, Audie and Roger Haddock.

Survivors include his wife, Betty Hyde of the home; daughters, Paula and husband Randy Wingfield of Caddo, Claudene and husband Rex Williams Jr. of Calera, and Patty and husband RD Mink of Blue; brothers, Thomas Hyde of Tushka and Wayne Dean of Elk City; step-sisters, Delores and husband John Casal of Grandbury, Texas and Vivian and husband Robert Dunn of Grand Prairie, Texas and brother-in-law JR Joines of Caddo.
